DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-14 are pending.
2. For examination purposes, it appears that independent claims 1-3 are drawn to ex vivo direct injections of B7-2 encoding nucleic acids into tumor cells.
If applicant disagrees with this interpretation that all of the claims are drawn to ex vivo procedures or presents claims drawn to in vivo administration of B7-2 encoding nucleic acids, then this application would be subject to further Restriction or species election.
3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed Invention wherein "B7-2 encoding nucleic acids" are injected into tumor cells ex vivo
 - A) alone (i.e. B7-2 encoding nucleic acids without additional molecules),
 - B) plus nucleic acids encoding at least one MHC class II α and at least one MHC class II β chain and/or,
 - C) plus nucleic acids encoding β - 2 microglobulin and/or,
 - D) plus nucleic acids encoding MHC class II invariant chain.

These species are distinct because their structures and modes of action differ to such an extent and require non-coextensive searches to such an extent that they are considered separately patentable. The examiner notes that these molecules do not share a substantial structural feature essential to a common utility.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (e.g. wherein "B7-2 encoding nucleic acids" and (B)) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

4. In addition to the election of species from Section 3 above,
this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed Invention wherein the solid is selected from:
 - A) carcinoma,
 - B) sarcoma,
 - C) melanoma, or
 - D) neuroblastoma.

These species are distinct because these tumors differ in etiologies and therapeutic endpoints.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Art Unit: 1644

5. Applicant is advised that a response to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 C.F.R. 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. M.P.E.P. 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 of the other invention.

6. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. 1.17(h).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Phillip Gambel whose telephone number is (571) 272-0844. The examiner can normally be reached Monday through Thursday from 7:30 am to 6:00 pm. A message may be left on the examiner's voice mail service.
